10.2 Appendix 2: Graduated Approach

The effectiveness of the support and interventions and their impact on the pupil's progress will be reviewed in line with the agreed date. The impact and quality of the support and interventions will be evaluated, along with the views of the pupil and their parents. The class teacher/staff, working with the SENCO, will revise the support in light of the pupil's progress and development, deciding on any changes to the support with the parent and pupil. Parents should have clear information about the impact of the support and interventions provided, enabling them to be involved in planning next steps.

Where a pupil has an EHC plan, the local authority and the school must review the plan as a minimum every twelve months.

Assess

SENDCo

Academy

staff

Child

Do

In identifying a child as needing SEN support the class or subject teacher, working with the SENDCo, will carry out an analysis of the pupil's needs, this will may include:

- Teacher assessments
- Experiences of the pupi
- Previous progress and attainment
- Behaviour
- Punil voice
- Parent/carer voice

Plan

Advice from external support services (if appropriate)

All assessments will be recorded via the individual academy's internal tracking system/process(es).

Assessment will be reviewed regularly to help ensure that support and intervention are matched to need and barriers to learning. For some types of SEN, the way in which a pupil responds to an intervention can be the most reliable method of developing a more accurate picture of need.

Review

The class teacher/staff is responsible for working with the child on a daily basis. Where the interventions involve group or one-to-one teaching away from the main class or subject teacher, they still retain responsibility for the pupil. They will work closely with any teaching assistants or specialist staff involved, to plan and assess the impact of support and interventions and how they can be linked to classroom teaching. The SENCO will support the class or subject teacher in the further assessment of the child's particular strengths and weaknesses, in problem solving and advising on the effective implementation of support.

If a pupil is identified to require SEN, parent/carers will be formally notified. The teacher and the SENDCo will agree in consultation with the parent and the pupil the adjustments, interventions and support to be put in place, as well as the expected impact on progress, development or behaviour, along with a clear date for review.

All teachers and support staff who work with the pupil will be made aware of their needs, the outcomes sought, the support provided and any teaching strategies or approaches that are required.
